

TABLE OF CONTENTS

GUIDE TO WRITING JOB DESCRIPTIONS

- Summary Statement -- 2
- Degree of Supervision -- 2
- Duties and Responsibilities -- 2
- Qualification/Competencies -- 3
- Special Conditions of Employment -- 4

REFERENCE MATERIALS

- Knowledge Modifiers -- 4
- Vocational Skills -- 5
- Communication Skills -- 5
- Financial Skills -- 6
- Interpersonal Skills -- 6
- Analytical Skills -- 7
- Self-Management Skills -- 8
- Terms to be Rephrased -- 8
- Functional Verb Examples and Definitions -- 8
- Examples of Physical Demands -- 10
- Examples of Environmental Conditions -- 10
- The Do's and Don'ts of Writing Job Descriptions -- 11

SUMMARY STATEMENT

The Summary Statement provides a synopsis of the major purpose of a position and its role in the department.

Example: Administrative Analyst

Under the general direction of the Director of Institutional Research and Policy Studies, the incumbent conducts institutional research and analysis in support of institutional decision making. This position supports central administration as well as faculty and staff administrators throughout campus. In this capacity the analyst is responsible for the collection, analysis, and dissemination of information on a variety of topics including, but not limited to, admissions, enrollment management, students' progress, program and institutional effectiveness and program evaluation.

DEGREE OF SUPERVISION

The Degree of Supervision section describes the way in which work is assigned, when it is reviewed, how it is reviewed, and what guidelines and protocols are available.

Supervision Received

Supervision types include:

- Close Supervision: The incumbent is assigned duties according to specified procedures and receives detailed instructions. Work is checked frequently.
- Supervision: The incumbent performs a variety of routine work within established policies and procedures, and receives detailed instructions on new projects and assignments.
- General Supervision: The incumbent normally receives little instruction on day-to-day work and receives general instructions on new assignments.
- Direction: The incumbent establishes methods and procedures for attaining specific goals and objectives, and receives guidance in terms of broad goals. Only the final results of work are typically reviewed.
- General Direction: The incumbent exercises wide latitude in determining objectives and approaches to critical assignments.

Supervision Given

- When the function/duty statement contains too much information for a single sentence, list the information as in the following example:
- Define uncommon abbreviations.
- Do not include references to personal qualities or skills.
- Clearly define ambiguous qualitative terms such as complex, large, difficult, etc.
- If the job is 0.5 FTE, the functions and duties should still add up to 100%.

ESSENTIAL vs. MARGINAL

Essential Functions are functions & duties that are critical to performing the job.

Marginal Functions are less than critical functions & duties.

- From the list of all functions performed, determine which are essential and which are marginal and the percentage of time spent on each.
- List the functions with the highest percentage first.
- Label each function as either “Essential” or “Marginal”.

QUALIFICATIONS/COMPETENCIES

A Competency is a skill, knowledge or ability required of an employee to successfully perform the functions and duties of a job.

This section of the job description identifies minimum job specifications required to perform the job. Basic competency categories include but are not limited to the following:

- Vocational (work content skills)
- Communication (reading, writing & speaking)
- Financial
- Interpersonal
- Analytical
- Self-Management

Guidelines for Writing Competency Statements

1. Each competency statement should indicate:
 - What is the ability
 - What is the level or amount of the ability
 - What is the context (for what purpose) in which the ability is utilized (optional).
2. Use examples from the job to help define the competency concisely.
3. Avoid using subjective modifiers like high-level, top-notch, first-rate, etc.
4. Do not include phrases such as "interest in," "desire to learn," and "commitment to growth" since these factors may be irrelevant to successful job performance and they are very difficult to assess in the selection process.
5. Tailor the competencies to the job you are describing. The competencies described in this handbook are only examples.
6. Categorize competencies as either “Required” or “Preferred” and list required first.

SPECIAL CONDITIONS OF EMPLOYMENT

Indicate any physical and environmental requirements, irregular work schedule, required licenses, certification, or background check as the following examples demonstrate.

Physical and Environmental Requirements:

- Ascends/descends ladders, scaffolds, stairs, and works in confined spaces and in proximity to loud machinery.
- Positions one-self in order to work in confined spaces such as trenches, pits, manholes, attics and tunnels.
- Recognizes exposure to live circuits and/or operating machinery.

Work Schedules:

- Work scheduled overtime and be available for emergency overtime when the need arises by responding to overtime call outs before and after standard scheduled hours of work.
- Work a temporary, alternative schedule or shift as requested by supervisor.

Required Licenses:

- Licensed to drive in the State of Georgia and the ability to drive a pickup truck or van.
- Drive a vehicle which requires a Class 2 Georgia Driver's License.

Background Checks:

- The selected candidate will be required to pass a criminal history background check and/or fingerprinting.

KNOWLEDGE MODIFIERS

The following terms may be used to define the level of knowledge required:

1. General Knowledge:

- Ability to use a source to find specific information.
- Generally familiar with information contained in source documents or covered in a subject field.
- For example, a general knowledge of Policies refers to the purpose of the policies, the general subjects that the policies cover, and how to reference the policies.

2. Working Knowledge:

- Ability to recall important and commonly-used information from the source. For example, working knowledge of Policies would include the ability to recall major and commonly used provisions of specific rules.
- Working knowledge does not imply a thorough, detailed knowledge of the specific provisions of all the rules.

3. Detailed Knowledge:

- Thorough understanding of all information contained in the source.
- Using the Policies example again, an individual with detailed knowledge would be expected to know the provisions of all rules in detail without having to look them up, including provisions which are not frequently used.

- Speak simple sentences. Speak on a one-to-one basis using appropriate vocabulary and grammar to obtain information and explain policies, procedures, etc.
- Public Speaking
 - Make presentations to persuade others to accept a specific opinion or action, or provide information and instruction
- Extemporaneous
 - Discuss variety of job-related topics on short or no notice
 - Handle rapid changes or difficult questions in conversation
- Speaking with Diverse Audiences
 - Speak with persons of various social, cultural, economic and educational backgrounds...
- Bilingual Speaking
 - English/Spanish bilingual oral communication skill to...
- Phone Reception
 - Speak clearly and distinctly...
- Visualization
 - Vividly describe people/scenes so others can visualize them

FINANCIAL SKILLS

- Accounting
 - Reconcile financial ledgers and process accounts payable/receivable
- Basic Math
 - Add, subtract, multiply and divide whole numbers, fractions and decimals without a calculator to...
- Budget Management
 - Knowledge of general and fund accounting and business practices to effectively manage budgets
- Financial Analysis
 - Develop creative financial solutions and make projections using present and future values, loan computations, and annuity calculations
- Measures & Weights
 - Perform operations with units such as cup, pint and quart; inch, foot and yard; ounce and pound to...
- Ratios, Rates & Percentages
 - Compute ratios, rates and percentages to...
- Statistics
 - Perform routine statistical computations such as correlation coefficients, t-tests, Chi-squares and analyses of variance

- Listen perceptively and convey awareness
- Establishing Work Relationships
 - Establish and maintain cooperative working relationships with...
- Interacting with Diverse Audiences
 - Interact with persons of various social, cultural, economic and educational backgrounds for the purpose of...
- Persuading & Negotiating
 - Sell or promote
 - Mediate between contending parties or groups
 - Negotiate or exchange ideas, information and opinions with others to formulate policies and programs and/or arrive jointly at decisions, conclusions or solutions
 - Reason persuasively to...
- Public Relations
 - Interact diplomatically with the public in a continuous public contact setting
 - Maintain equanimity in the face of resistance or contrary opinions
- Supervising
 - Supervise [people, resources, projects, etc.] including:
 - Organizing work flow to accomplish established objectives
 - Delegating responsibility
 - Training
 - Evaluating subordinate effectiveness
 - Administering necessary discipline
- Teaching
 - Foster a stimulating, accepting learning environment
- Teamwork
 - Work as part of a team or collaborate with colleagues

- Modify and/or adapt designs, procedures or methods to...

SELF-MANAGEMENT SKILLS

- Changing Tasks
 - Perform effectively in environments with frequent workload changes and competing demands
- Repetition
 - Perform repetitive work according to set procedures
- Concentration
 - Perform with frequent interruptions and/or distractions
- Fluctuating Workload
 - Perform effectively under conditions of fluctuating workload
- Prioritizing
 - Set priorities which accurately reflect the relative importance of job responsibilities
 - Prioritize assignments to complete work in a timely manner
- Follow Through
 - Work independently and follow through on assignments with minimal direction
- Ambiguity
 - Take action when answers to a problem are not readily apparent in equivocal circumstances.

TERMS TO BE REPHRASED

It is important to state qualifications in terms of observable work behavior rather than general words or phrases, which can have a variety of meanings. The following are examples of ways in which some commonly used terms can be rewritten to be more job-specific.

- High Stress/Pressure -- Perform a variety of duties, often changing from one task to another of a different nature. (Consider when several duties in a job indicate significant differences in technologies, techniques, environmental factors, physical demands or work situations.)
- Concentration -- Perform with frequent interruptions and/or distractions. Make appropriate job decisions following standard office policies and past precedents. Recognize an emergency situation and take appropriate action. Think through the consequences of a decision prior to making it.
- Easygoing/Emotionally Stable/Even Temperament -- Ability to establish and maintain cooperative working relationships with co-workers and the public.
- High Energy Level -- Complete heavy workload within established time frames.
- Initiative/Drive/Self-Confidence/Self-Reliance -- Work independently and identify potentially more effective methods of work operation
- Common Sense/Good Judgment/Flexibility/ Adaptability/Versatility -- Ability to interact appropriately with colleagues and students for different purposes and in different contexts. Adapt to frequent changes in workload. Adjust priorities quickly as circumstances dictate.

FUNCTIONAL VERB DEFINITIONS

It is important that the stated job functions are similarly interpreted by the writer of the Job Description writer as well as the evaluator of the Job Description. The following list is intended to provide you with

"working definitions" for some commonly used verbs to ensure clarity amongst many readers and prevent the use of indefinite or ambiguous expressions.

- Administer -- Manage or direct. (Generally requires some additional explanation to show specific detail. See "Manage".)
- Advise -- Offer an informed opinion or give specialized information to others.
- Allocate -- Assign or apportion for a specific purpose or to a particular person.
- Appraise -- Judge as to quality or value; compare critically with established standards.
- Approve -- Exercise final and decisive authority.
- Analyze -- Identify the elements of a whole and critically examine and relate these component parts separately and/or in relation to the whole.
- Assign -- Specify or designate tasks and duties to be performed by others.
- Authorize -- Approve or commit an act implying subsequent action by others.
- Compile -- Put together information or assemble data in a new form.
- Control -- Direct, regulate, or guide the use of money, methods, equipment, and materials. Also, the process of monitoring activities to ensure conformance with planned results.
- Coordinate -- Regulate, adjust or direct the related actions of others in order to attain desired results.
- Create -- Produce through imaginative skill.
- Delegate -- Entrust to another person tasks or duties that require exercise of some authority of the person originally responsible, as "to delegate an administrative assistant to represent the department at conferences."
- Develop -- Disclose, discover, perfect, or unfold a plan or idea in detail, gradually. It implies study and/or experiment unless otherwise stated.

(The information below is compiled and adapted from BLR's popular Job Descriptions Encyclopedia, December 2007 and <http://hrdailyadvisor.blr.com/archive/2009/02/03>)

THE DO'S AND DON'TS OF WRITING JOB DESCRIPTIONS

DO – // h,.. / h,.. / h ()e .9(p)/TT8(ec)-2(-3(11/)-2(csj -0.004 Tc 0.08.35 >>BDC -36.34 -1.32 Td ()80.003 Tw 1

DON'T – Gloss over essential versus non-essential functions

With the advent of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), it became “essential” to separate essential functions of a job from those less so. This allows persons with disabilities to still be hired if they can carry out those key tasks (sometimes with reasonable accommodation), even if they can't do lesser tasks. Every job description must make this separation to be ADA-compliant. If your job descriptions are fuzzy about essential functions, things won't go your way in court.

DON'T – Describe duties to be performed in the future

Avoid: “When the conversion is done, employee will handle task X”.

The general rule is that a function must have been performed for a period of 3 months before being included in a job description.