Master of Science in Athletic Training Uni ersit of North Georgia

Goals and Objecti es

St dents ill nderstand demonstrate and access skills and techniq es to pre ent inj r and illness and promote ellness

Identif risk factors b administering assessement pre participation e amination and other screening instr ments and re ie ing indi id al and gro p histor and inj r s r eillance data

Facilitate personal and gro p safet b monitoring and responding to en ironmental conditions e g eather s rfaces client ork setting

St dents ill demonstrate the abilit to e amine assess and diagnose orthopedic and general medical conditions

Obtain an indi id als histor thro ghobser ation and inter ie to assess injories and illnesses and to identificomorbidities

Perform a phosical elamination to form late differential diagnoses

Form late a clinical diagnosis bointerpreting the histor and the phosical elamination to determine the appropriate coorse of action

Interpret signs and somptoms of injories illnesses or other health related conditions that reqoire referral sing medical histor and phosical elamination to ensore appropriate care

Master and incorporate ad anced orthopedic elamination skills

St dents ill be able to implement immediate and emergenc care for optimal o tromes

Establish re ie and or re ise emergenc action plans to g ide the appropriate triage of inj ries and optimi e o tcomes
Implement appropriate on field emergenc care and immediate care proced res to red ce the risk of morbidit and mortalit
Implement and properl perform a conc ssion assessment
Ascertain respirator distress and implement appropriate air a management de ice hen indicated

St dents ill be able to assess and implement appropriate therape tic inter entions for a ariet of different pathological conditions