A student who has earned a grade other than a W in the course may not earn CLEP, DSST or other exam credit for the course. A student may earn CLEP, DSST or other exam credit for a course in which he/she is currently enrolled provided that the student withdraws from the course no later than the last date in the term to withdraw with a W. Students should be aware that medical, dental, and other professional schools may not recognize course credit by examination in their admissions processes.

Methods of Assessing Prior Learning for College Credit

1. Departmental Examination. Students currently enrolled who present satisfactory evidence that they are knowledgeable in a particular subject may receive credit by an approved departmental examination developed and administered by the appropriate instructional department. Satisfactory evidence may be but is not limited to work experience, non-credit courses, coursework was taken at non-accredited institutions or military courses. The head of the instructional department offering the course must give permission; however, exams will not be permitted in courses for which a student has previously taken an exam for credit or was previously enrolled at UNG as a regular or audit student. (For more information, consult the UNG Catalog.)
2. National Standardized Examination. Credit for prior learning may be awarded through College Level Examination Program (CLEP), Advanced Placement (AP) credit, Dantes Subject Standardized Tests (DSST), Foreign Language Achievement Testing Service (FLATS), and International Baccalaureate Program (IB) (further explanation is available in the UNG Catalog).

CLEP (College Level Examination Program) Credit

College-Level Examination Program (CLEP) exams are ninety-minutes (except the College Composition Exam, which is 120 minutes) available in five general areas and twenty-nine subject areas for students interested in earning college credit for the material they already know. Criteria for credit awarded for CLEP subject examinations, minimum scores, and credit is given may be found on page 12 of this handbook or for more detailed information, go to the UNG Testing website for CLEP. CLEP credit will be indicated by a "K" grade on the student's transcript.

DSST (Dantes Subject Standardized Tests) Credit

The Dantes Subject Standardized Tests (DSST), formerly DANTES
