

Authorization to Disclose Information

Sexual Misconduct/Title IX Cases

The Family Education and Privacy Rights Act (FERPA) is a Federal law that gives eligible students some rights to privacy and disclosure of “education records.” Unless permitted under FERPA, the University of North Georgia may not release education records or identifiable information without the student’s written consent. The purpose of this form is to enable a student to permit the University of North Georgia to disclose their educational records/identifiable information. The party may add or delete any advisor listed.

Printed Name of Student: _____

Name of Advisor (1): _____

Name of Advisor (2): _____

Name of Advisor (3): _____

Name of Advisor (4): _____

Outline any limitations or exceptions to the release of your educational record as related to this case:

As outlined above, I give the University of North Georgia permission to release information regarding the sexual misconduct/Title IX case to the above-listed individual(s).

Signature of Party (Student Only)

Date